'SPECIAL EDITION'

Welcome back after the sunny (and hopefully relaxing) half term break. I hope that you were able to spend lots of time together making new memories with one another. The last half term of this year together is upon us and I hope that soon the government say that children can return and we can learn with each other again in school. Some of you may choose to stay at home instead of returning and this is fine, we will continue to learn together throughout this. Below is an outline of how learning will look this half term.

LEARNING FOR ALL

ENGLISH

Spelling practise

Stories

Punctuation and grammar activities

MATHS

Maths songs

Times tables and mental maths practise

Revision of prior learning and new skills

OTHER

Singing

Handwriting

Stone Age Britain and Growth investigations

Physical activities

Art activities

Keep up the hard work you superstars! You will have time to enjoy playing and resting with family each day once the learning is done.

LEARNING AT HOME EXTRAS

Boredom Busters

PSHE focusing on memories and changes

Computing and French

Phone calls home

LEARNING IN SCHOOL EXTRAS

Doodle time

PSHE focusing on keeping safe, recognising feelings and changes

Circle time and games

Time to talk

Work to support transition back to school will be shared with families before returning too.
